

Hockey Is The Reason, a field hockey player and club management company duly incorporated and existing under the laws of Ghana, on Saturday 19th December 2020 at the Movinpick Ambassador Hotel became the first Ghanaian company to sign a player onto its management program.

The Player, Mr. Ryan Takyi, an alumnus of the Adisadel College and of the Exchequers Hockey Club of Bank of Ghana was grateful to God and to the management of Hockey Is The Reason for taking such huge amount of gumption and self-assurance in selecting him amid a year variously described as “Uncertain” due to the Coronavirus pandemic.

The Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Romeo Bulley in his address stated that, “Hockey Is The Reason Ltd is positioned to navigate all the complexities of drawbacks that have gripped Ghana’s hockey space and therefore more pragmatic steps are in place to making players issues a direct part of the company’s pitch.

By this contract, the player will explore all opportunities available to him in playing professional hockey across the globe while pursuing higher level of education in countries of choice. Mr, Ryan Takyi was accompanied by his mother, Madam Georgina Sam, a former Ghana’s Hockey National Team Player and his younger brother.

The new signee will be privately trained and groomed by Coach Patrick Taylor of Police Hockey Club in order to maintain a high performance standard so to match startling talents out there. Coach Taylor advised the player that “Talent alone is not enough, but discipline, passion and commitment are totems of the strength of conservative values”.

Hockey Is The Reason management team present included Mr. Lord Lincoln, Mr. Eric Nii Sackey, Coach Patrick Taylor and Kojo Lumour Ameye.
